New Shots Break Out In Algiers

OAS Blamed For 8 Dead, 15 Wounded

ALGIER, Algeria (UPI) — New shooting broke out in Algiers today in the wake of Monday night's bloodshed which the Moslem police chief blamed on resurgent elements of the outlawed Secret Army Organization.

Police prefect Amar Mohammed told a news conference the toll of Monday night's two hours of wild shooting was eight killed and 15 wounded. He said the dead numbered five Europeans and three "Moslem soldiers," and the wounded included eight Europeans and seven Moslems.

As Mohammed spoke to reporters, several shots rang out in the nearby Rue d'Isly, in the heart of the downtown European section. First reports said one woman was wounded.

But Algerian soldiers immediately cordoned off the area and started searching European-occupied apartment buildings. Other soldiers stood on the sidewalks watching the apartment balconies.

The incident was so brief that traffic was not even halted. It never took on the "return-to-terror" aspect of Monday night's wild shooting when Moslem soldiers and auxiliary police fired at random at European-occupied buildings and hotels.

The shootings seemed to reflect the tension that has been building up in the power struggle between Premier Ben Youssef, Ben Khedda and dissident Vice Premier Ahmed Ben Bella. The provisional government, headed by Ben Khedda, virtually has capitulated to the Ben Bella forces in a surprise move that may settle things peacefully between the factions.

Long Agenda For Council

The Palm Springs City Council will work through a three-page agenda in the meeting beginning at 8 p.m. in council chambers today.

Highlights of the meeting are expected to include a plea by the Palm Springs Hotel and Apartment Association for tightening of the city rate sign ordinance, and a request by Merrill Lowell for permission to conduct auto races on the city airport plus city zoning and building matters. Included in these will be a report by Urban Renewal officials on a downtown survey, and certification of the city "workable program" for federal-aided housing eligibility.

Abortion Recommended After Deformity Drug

PHOENIX (UPI)—A panel of doctors has recommended that a Phoenix woman undergo an abortion in the next few days to prevent birth of a child they fear would be deformed because of drugs taken by the woman.

The doctors entered their recommendation Monday after studying the case. The identity of the doctors and the woman were not made public.

The woman took a tranquilizer containing Thalidomide, obtained by her husband on a trip to Europe. The substance once was widely distributed in Europe until medical tests showed it often caused deformed infants when taken during the first few weeks of pregnancy.

A UPI dispatch drew the woman's attention to the potential danger, and she told her physician she had taken the drug. He checked with European medical authorities, and it was determined that the tranquilizer definitely contained the dangerous synthetic substance.

The Arizona Medical Association named the anonymous panel which recommended terminating the pregnancy. Abortion is a felony in Arizona, but the law allows physicians leeway where the mother's physical or mental health may be endangered.

USSR Tells World About Newest Weapons Tests

JFK Hints Another Test Series

Speaks Directly By Telstar to European People

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy has raised the possibility that the United States might conduct another nuclear test series if forthcoming Soviet blasts "present a further risk to our security."

The President discussed the nuclear arms race, Berlin, the balance of payments, taxes, his legislative program and other subjects in a historic news conference televised live to Europe via the Telstar satellite.

About five minutes of the President's 30-minute meeting with 372 newsmen was telecast. But it gave him an opportunity to speak directly to the European people on Russia's decision to resume nuclear testing.

The telecast started during Kennedy's reply to a question on Berlin, covered his statements on nuclear tests and Congress, and ended during his remarks on the balance of payments.

The President whose television audience was estimated at up to 100 million persons said the United States would be reluctant to carry out another series of nuclear tests.

He said the current U.S. tests were due to Russia's breach of the moratorium last fall and said the new Soviet tests would have to be analyzed to see if they were a threat to U.S. security.

"In this constant pursuit every one desires to be last," Kennedy said. "Of course, it increases the danger for the human race. We are very reluctant to test."

"We will not test again unless we are forced to or unless our security is threatened, or because as a result of new Soviet tests we find ourselves unable to meet our commitments to our own people and those who are allied with us."

On other subjects Kennedy made these points:

Telstar — The communications satellite is "another indication of the extraordinary world in which we live." Understanding which will come from the speedier communications "is bound to increase the well-being and security of all people."

It Only Looked Like D-Day on Palm Canyon

Early risers driving down Palm Canyon Drive may have been reminded of the morning after "D-Day" with debris scattered over the street for many blocks. This was the result of burned flares used by the State Highway workers who were painting lines on the street throughout the night.

The refuse was promptly cleaned up by city street crews, however, the scene will recur tomorrow morning as the state work continues. Caution should be exercised in driving in the area between midnight and the early morning hours.

NEW PLOT plan for the proposed $10 million Desert Inn project sought here by developer-builder George Alexander and partner Samuel Firs, was outlined to the Palm Springs City Council Monday by Otto Killian, Charles Luckman and Associates, planning specialists. The new plan, given informal encouragement by the council members in a four-hour luncheon session in the Biltmore Hotel, incorporates most city planning commission recommendations, Alexander said. See story, Page 2. (Desert Sun Photo)

Rescuers at Scene of B47 Crash

LIVINGSTON, Mont. (UPI) — Rescue workers at the scene of the crash of a B47 jet bomber in southwestern Montana reported today they were unable immediately to find any bodies in the smoldering wreckage.

The plane crashed in a ball of flame at the 8,500-foot level of Emigrant Mountain 35 miles south of here Monday night.

Park County Sheriff Albert Nickelson radioed from the crash site that an unopened parachute pack was among the items found in the chunks of twisted metal. The Forest Service said there was a possibility that some or all of the four-member crew ejected before the four-engine bomber plowed into the mountain. It was also possible the men were burned up in the flaming wreckage, the Forest Service said.

GROMYKO TODAY

Now Russians In Telstar Show

NEW YORK (UPI) — And now the Russians are ready to get into the act.

Pictures of Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko will be beamed from Geneva across the Atlantic today to give U.S. television viewers a first-hand glimpse of the Russian statesman at the conference table.

Gromyko's face, not exactly an unfamiliar one to Americans, might not generate as much excitement here as Monday's dazzling display of famed European landmarks, but his appearance on U.S. screens via the space magic of Telstar will mark still another "first" in the infant era of global television.

The Russians previously had indicated an unwillingness to participate in the Telstar experiment, and just last week the Soviet newspaper Izvestia criticized the launching of the tiny satellite (built by the American Telephone and Telegraph Co.) as an attempt to establish a "capitalistic monopoly" in space.

But the Soviet delegation in Geneva Monday agreed to let the National Broadcasting Co. (NBC) transmit the foreign minister's picture across the sea and thus Gromyko will go down in history as the first Russian to appear on transatlantic television.

Gromyko was scheduled to be filmed along with U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk and British Foreign Secretary Lord Home at the opening of today's session of the 17-nation disarmament conference.

Soviets Refuse International Control Treaty

GENEVA (UPI) — Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko told the 17-nation Disarmament Conference today Russia plans to test "the newest types of nuclear weapons" in its forthcoming test series.

At the same time, he made it clear the Soviets will accept no international control of a test ban treaty and said "there will be no agreement" on a general disarmament treaty unless the West agrees to scrap its foreign bases in the first stage of the disarmament process.

American diplomats at the 60th plenary session of the conference said Gromyko's remarks about the new weapons to be tried out at the forthcoming Soviet tests were "highly significant."

Secretary of State Dean Rusk, speaking after Gromyko, said the Soviet announcement last Saturday that it was resuming tests were "regrettable."

"This regrettable announcement by the Soviet Union that it feels constrained, forced or compelled to follow the recent series of Soviet and American tests with still further weapons tests makes it all the more urgent that our efforts would succeed," he said.

Immediately after the session, Rusk and Gromyko lunched together at the Soviet minister's villa.

It was their third meeting since they arrived here last week. In six and one-half hours of talk so far Rusk has been unable to detect any change in Soviet firmness on Berlin, disarmament and other cold war problems.

Gromyko said the Soviets are definitely not prepared to compromise on the question of international control of a test ban and said they are not interested in inspecting U.S. territory "because we are not preparing to attack the United States."

On foreign bases, Gromyko said flatly "there will be no agreement on general and complete disarmament without provision for the elimination of all foreign military bases on alien territories in the first stage. The bases were and remain strong points of aggression and only of aggression."

The West has refused to accept Soviet demands that foreign bases be scrapped in the first stage because it says this would put the United States at a disadvantage in protecting its far-flung allies.

Williams said the tentative schedule which provided for receipt of bids by Aug. 20, start of construction about Apr. 1 and completion about March 1, 1963.

County Building Bid Set

RIVERSIDE — Bids on construction of the new county building at the city center in Palm Springs will be received at the courthouse here and opened at 2 p.m. Aug. 16, the date set Monday by the board of supervisors.

E. Stewart Williams, Palm Springs architect, estimated cost of the structure which will house the municipal court and county branch offices at $299,876. This includes installation of utilities, parking area, curb, sidewalks, and landscaping. The county has included $300,000 for the project in the preliminary 1962-63 budget.

Supervisor Norman Davis, board chairman, said he is not against the project but is set on holding the present tax rate. This means that the preliminary budget will have to be pared down considerably and the piling could include elimination of the $300,000. "I don't think we should set a bid date before adoption of the final budget," he declared. "It could be a waste of effort on the part of contractors in submitting bids."

Supervisor William Jones, himself a contractor, did not appear concerned about wasting the efforts of contractors. He said the hearings on the final budget get underway Aug. 1 and the budget should be adopted before the Aug. 16 bid date.

Williams said the tentative schedule which provided for receipt of bids by Aug. 20, start of construction about Apr. 1 and completion about March 1, 1963.

New York Stocks at Closing

NEW YORK (UPI) — Stocks gradually lost ground in quiet dealings today as electronics and other glamor issues getting the worst of it.

Among the blue chips American Telephone and Woolworth were down more than a point and U.S. Steel and Johns-Manville dropped about 1 apiece. Leading autos and oils finished narrowly along with chemicals rails and utilities.

The glamor growth stocks were soft throughout the session. A loss of about 8 showed in IBM nearly 5 in Polaroid and Xerox 3 in Litton 2 in Texas Instruments and 1 1/2 in Beckman.

Gold stocks were fairly mixed after President Kennedy's warning that speculators on a dollar devaluation would lose out. Silver issues firmed as Handy & Harman again boosted the New York silver price.

Plan to Rebuild Burned Church

EL CENTRO (UPI) — Preparations were being made today to reconstruct the First Methodist Church destroyed by fire at a loss of $370,000.

Fire Marshal Russell Sherwood said Monday he was investigating the possibility that vandals set the fire. A second fire set in another church was cited as a reason vandalism was being considered as the cause of the major blaze.

Desert Inn Plot Plan Presented

Developer George Alexander presented the "maximum effort" plot plan for the proposed $10 million Desert Inn project to a study luncheon session of the Palm Springs City Council Monday.

The new plan, which Alexander explained "put into effect the greatest part of the recommendations of the council and planning commission," was billed as the final essential approach.

"This is our maximum effort. Anything varying from this would throw the project out of kilter," Alexander told the meeting attended by six council members and three planning commissioners.

Never Open

The Palm Springs builder-developer emphasized that if the council did not approve the basic Desert Inn proposal in a meeting set for Aug. 6, "The Desert Inn will never be opened again."

The plan, presented by Otto Killian, planning specialist on the Charles Luckman and Associates staff, includes four major changes from the previous presentations: —The convention center — designed for 1,000 people, but not slated as a fixed seat facility — is moved from the south to the north side of the proposed eight-story hotel; —The hotel itself is moved 50 feet to 80 feet north from the adjacent property on the south depending on the final alignment of Andreas Road, proposed to enter from the east;

Seal Mail

—The mall entryway to Palm Canyon Drive is sealed off, with traffic entering on Belardo and Andreas Road, and a loop road to the rear of the hotel designed to connect with the major entry roads on the east side of the building; and —The mall shops are reduced in depth from 100 feet maximum to 65 feet, with roads on the north and south, and a landscaped walkway in the center portion.

Second Level

Subject to revision, or possible plans for two-story parking in the second phase of development, is the planning for 700 car parking.

Killian explained that the convention center, though billed as a 1,000 person facility, is not fixed seat, and would not require the same parking as a fixed-seat facility.

Not a Park

"Most of the convention people will be in the hotel anyway," Alexander said.

A second level for the mall buildings will be used for professional offices or display area, Killian reported. The Palm Canyon Shops will remain as a single-story plan. "The total extra commercial zoning sought is about 22,000 square feet of ground area, or less than a half-acre," Killian emphasized.

The council members indicated that the planning commission recommendations landscaping for 50 per cent of the useable building area was excessive.

The plan was applauded—though not approved in the study session—by council members, including Vice Mayor Ted McKinney, and Councilmen Earle Strebe, George Beebe, and Kirk. Areas to be worked out include the sight-line angle of 45 degrees—up from the recommended 18 degrees studied by the council for high rise buildings; the mall vista treatment; landscaping; and parking.

KILLIAN GIVEN HAT

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy who rarely wears a hat was presented a Panama hat Monday from Ecuadorian President Carlos Julio Arosemena.

Arosemena conferred with Kennedy for 30 minutes at the White House.

RESCUE PARTY heads for spot (marked by arrow) where two cars of Marseille-Paris express train jumped tracks and fell into ravine 150 feet below near Dijon, France, Monday. Four other cars of the 16-car train jumped tracks without falling into ravine. Accident, apparently caused when coupling broke as train rounded a curve, caused 37 deaths and injuries to another 48 persons, according to early official report released by French railway system. (UPI Telephoto)

French Train Wreck Casualties Mounting

DIJON, France (UPI)—Disaster crews searched the wreckage of the Paris-Marseilles Express today and provincial authorities appealed for fresh blood supplies for persons injured when five cars of the train derailed. One car toppled 150 feet into a ravine.

Thirty-eight persons were killed and 47 injured in the accident, the prefecture of the Cote d'Or Department said.

The accident happened Monday

But a French Railways spokesman in Paris had said earlier that 36 were known dead and 48 injured. There was no explanation for the conflicting figures.

CAB Probes Plane Crash In Honolulu

HONOLULU (UPI)—The Civil Aeronautics Board today investigated the crash of a Canadian Pacific airliner which swerved away from its assigned runway Sunday night and crashed, killing 27 of 40 persons aboard.

The plane, the Empress of Lima, was returning to Honolulu airport for an emergency landing when it slammed into several bulldozers and other heavy grading equipment, broke in half, the front section bursting into flames. The 13 survivors were all in the split-off tail section.

"The plane just folded," said Australian Frederick H. Manuel, 50, one of the passengers in the first class section of the rear cabin. "It seemed like the plane was rather late letting down on the runway."

"I had the impression," Manuel said at Tripler Army Hospital where he was treated for cuts and bruises, "the plane was too far down the runway, that it was going to be too late to land."

Most of the plane's 29 passengers, including two infants, were from New Zealand and Australia. The 11 crew members were based at Vancouver, B.C. One of the 27 victims was an American, Arthur Pudney Los Gatos Calif.

The plane was returning to Honolulu's International Airport with one engine dead after it had taken off on a flight to Sydney, Australia, via the Fiji Islands.

Federal Aviation Agency tower operators said the Britannia turboprop airliner seemed to be making a normal approach in good weather and that three-engine landings are "almost routine."

Airport witnesses said that if the plane had touched down only 60 feet to either side it probably would have landed safely even off the runway. But it crashed into the heavy grading equipment instead.

Brush Fires Nearby Are Controlled

BEAUMONT — Two brush fires that have scorched 2,870 acres of forestry service watershed and led to the death of a pilot were controlled early today by more than 350 firemen.

The State Forestry Office said conservation crews and fire trucks have been put on mop up operations and patrol on the 2,370 acres that burned three miles southwest of this semi-desert community. Another 500 acres destroyed near Cabazon about 12 miles away are also in the mop up stages.

Funeral services for borate bomber pilot Alvin B. Walters, 38, who was killed when his plane crashed on the edge of the desert, will be held Thursday at St. Anthony's Church in San Jacinto. Three other firemen were injured fighting the blaze.

Damage caused by the two fires has not been estimated. No homes were burned.

Investigations have been planned to determine the cause of the two fires.

Angel View Will Close

11th recommendation asks that the board affirm that Dr. Bingham is still on the medical staff of the foundation.

Other Recommendations

Other recommendations in the series that triggered stormy regular and special sessions recently are:

—Appointment of a three-member arbitration committee to handle all complaints;

—Adherence to Roberts Rules of Order by the foundation directors and officers, and members of the five auxiliaries;

—Channeling of all publicity through the foundation's public relations committee, excepting publicity on auxiliary activities and fund raising functions;

—The board of directors to review treasurer and bookkeeping duties, and issue an annual financial report to auxiliaries;

—Immediate publication of the Foundation's by-laws and distribution to board members and auxiliaries, with review for possible revision. All auxiliary bylaws should be uniform;

—Create an open staff, abolishing the medical directorship. An acting medical chief of staff would be elected by the board to form a medical staff. Subsequently, medical staff members would elect their own chief of staff and establish organization prescribed by the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals;

—Auxiliary or Board —Secure a volunteer hospital administrator as an advisory board member who will advise on hospital administration;

—Revise bylaws to provide for appointment of five elected auxiliary members to the board for three-year terms;

—Revise bylaws to provide for election of any appointive board member at the next general election and not fill a longer unexpired term of a previous board member; and —The auxiliaries are to turn over all monies in excess of $1,000 to the foundation board with recommendations of the policy committee.

Six Escape Reds

KRONACH Germany (UPI) — Western border police said Monday six East German youths fled to West Germany last weekend and asked for political asylum here.

Authorities said the youths aged 15 to 20 told them they did not want to be drafted into the East German army.

Angel View, supported by Desert Hot Springs donations originally, now has four auxiliaries which contribute support. A major fund-raising campaign is the annual Teen Angel contest.

Eugene Kelly Shank Claims Bride

Currently honeymooning in Hawaii are Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Kelly Shank, whose charmingly appointed wedding last Saturday evening took place in San Gabriel.

The benedict, son of Mr. and Mrs. Levan Saeger of Cathedral City, claimed his bride, the former Miss Jean Lee Fonda, at an 8 o'clock ceremony read by Dr. Crawford W. Brown in the Church of Our Saviour.

Magnolias and Fern

The bride, daughter of the Robert Charles Fondas of Pasadena, gave her vows before an altar banked with magnolias and ferns and lighted by tall cathedral candles in massive holders.

For her nuptials, she wore a short-sleeved gown of ivory taffeta beautifully detailed with old lace. Floating over its soft folds was a full-length heirloom veil of Brussels' princess lace, which her mother had worn, held in place by a crown applied with the same lace medallions that trimmed her gown. For her flowers, she carried a bouquet of orchids and stephanotis.

Six Attendants

Six attendants in roseberry pink chiffon preceded her down the long center aisle. Mrs. Paul Woodward (Gail Wiley) of Santa Monica took the matron of honor role, and Miss Patricia Gooch of Pasadena was the honor maid. Performing bridesmaid duties were Mrs. Kurt Hauser (Molloy O'Connor) of San Francisco, and, from Pasadena, Mrs. Tom Werdel (Corinne Chandler), Miss Laurie Mack, and Mrs. Robert Fonda Jr. (Elizabeth Howes).

Their matching sheaths designed with draped bodices and fully gathered overskirts, were accented by their head wreaths of fresh

The Masculine Contingent

The benedict awaited his bride at the altar with Ira B. Iscobar of El Segundo as his best man. The ushering contingent included Robert Fonda Jr. of Pasadena, Paul Woodward of Santa Monica, Robert Morris of Pacific Palisades, William Allen of Los Angeles, and Thomas Revelle of Bel Air.

For the reception which followed the nuptials, the Valley Hunt Club's poolside terrace was decorated with large arrangements of fresh magnolias in tall urns, and other magnolia blossoms floated on the surface of the water. Candles and magnolia leaves encircled a fountain in the smaller pool.

While the reception was still at its height, the new Mr. and Mrs. Shank left on their honeymoon journey; when they return, they will make their home in Brentwood.

A 1956 Debutante

The bride attended Polytechnic School and Westridge, and was graduated from the Ethel Walker School in Simsbury, Conn. She continued her studies at Hollins College in Virginia, at the Berkeley campus of the University of California, where she was an Alpha Phi, and at the University of Southern California. In 1956, she was presented at the Valley Hunt Club Debutante Ball.

Her husband was graduated from Black-Foxe Military Institute and Stanford University, and he took his master's degree from USC. He is currently associated with North American Aviation in the nuclear reactor division.

ANYTHING CAN HAPPEN IN THE DESERT, even snow in mid-summer—not to mention a regular holiday dinner with turkey, dressing, cranberries, yams, and all the other goodies. For the second year, 'Christmas in July' was celebrated with considerable whoop-de-do at Firecliff Lodge last Saturday evening, and countless couples from all around gathered for the fun and games in 'snow' thoughtfully manufactured by the local ice company. Pictured here as they worked their way along the buffet line to a lavish and typical Christmas dinner are Kay and Syd Coult, the Robert R. Moses, and Col. and Mrs. George Klein, only a few of the many guests who attended the party. 'Santa's helpers' in brief bathing suits added to the fun, and later in the evening there was dancing.

Palm Springs J.C. Ettes Date Meeting

The Palm Springs J. C. Ettes, women's auxiliary of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, will meet at 8:30 p.m. tomorrow in the home of Mrs. H. W. Ridley, 39-161 Karen, Cathedral City. Members desiring rides are asked to call the membership chairman, Mrs. Kenneth Parker. Hostesses for the evening will be Mrs. Larry Coulton and Mrs. Richard Smith.

The social chairman, Mrs. Richard Hill, and the convention chairman, Mrs. Smith, will discuss preliminary arrangements for the Jay-Cee state board meeting to be held November 9-11 at El Mirador Hotel. The club will sponsor several activities for the wives of the delegates, and will assist Jaycee convention chairman, Ken Jackson, with the registration and entertainment.

CAREFUL SELECTION NECESSARY

Wrong Wax Causes Harm

There are so many floor waxes on the market today that many housewives are confused about which type to use.

Most women know the difference between buffing waxes and those that dry to a shine, but few know which to use on wood and cork floors, and which on tile, vinyl, and linoleum. A researcher recently found, for example, that approximately 40 per cent of all housewives use self-polishing waxes on wood floors — causing irreparable damage to the finish and grain.

Two Categories

All floor waxes fall into two basic categories — buffing and non-buffing.

Buffing waxes, such as paste wax and cleaning wax, have a solvent base. They're designed for wood, cork, and similar floors. All buffing waxes contain natural wax. Non-buffing, or self-polishing waxes are made from "acrylics" and synthetic plastics. These have a water base, ideal for asphalt tile, rubber tile, vinyl, and linoleum. When the water evaporates, the acrylic becomes a hard, clear protective coating.

But water itself has a deteriorating effect on wood, causing splitting, buckling and splintering, and damage to the finish much like the "water ring" left on furniture by a highball glass.

Color Changes

Left over a long period of time, most synthetic waxes turn dark yellow. This is true when they are used on either wood or non-wood floors. Ground-in dirt further darkens and discolors the polish, and, in time, the original floor beauty is hidden.

The housewife's natural inclination, at this point, is to remove the old wax. She then discovers her mistake. While the plastic film comes up fairly easily from non-wood floors — with the use of special removers — it won't depart the wood floor surface with a sanding operation.

Moral for housewives: "Don't use kitchen floor waxes on wood floors."

MRS. HERMAN PAINE hosted a recent luncheon party to say farewell to Mrs. Ross Winans, who, with her husband and daughter, Libby Ann, is moving to Yuma, Ariz., where they have purchased one of the Denny's Coffee Shops. Others in the gay luncheon group were Mrs. Rex Smith and her brother, Lloyd Biddle, Isabel Cooper, and Michele Hamilton. Mrs. Winans is shown here at left with her hostess at the Riviera, where the party took place.

Use Flowers To Frame Your Mirror

Here's a home-decorating idea that is unusual — and oh, so pretty. Frame your mirror with flowers!

A s tiny flowers holders, use the tops of discarded lipstick cases—gold, green, blue, and red, or the jeweled and sparkling ones. Apply them all around the mirror's frame with posey clay or scotch tape. (If your particular frame is not suitable for this purpose, attach the cases just inside the frame.)

Then fill the miniature vases with some of the new, wonderfully-true-to-life artificial flowers—small ones, such as rosebuds, carnations, gardenias, daisies, or violets.

For special parties, use real flowers for the frame. When you and your feminine guests look at themselves in the mirror, they'll be delightfully surprised by their flower-enhanced image.

SAYS PSYCHIATRIST

Proper Handling of Juvenile Delinquent

SEATTLE, Wash. (UPI)—The proper way to handle a juvenile delinquent is not to probe into his subconscious to find out why he broke the law but to tell him that he did wrong and warn him not to do it again, a psychiatrist said today.

Dr. William Glasser, a psychiatric consultant at California's Ventura School for Girls, said too often delinquents think because they are "emotionally disturbed" they are not responsible for their acts.

"This is not something they would be aware of on their own," he said. "They have learned that to get along well in a modern treatment conscious institution this is the most comfortable attitude to take."

Dr. Glasser read a paper on his approach to delinquency to the National Institute on Crime and Delinquency which opened here today.

He said when dealing with inmates at the reform school, "I explained that it was true that they might be emotionally disturbed but it was because they had broken the law that they were locked up. A person can be emotionally disturbed and have a stomach ache or be afraid of high places but to get into the school, she had to break the law."

Most psychiatrists, Dr. Glasser said, try to "help the patient understand that conflicts buried in his unconscious are the cause of his aberrant behavior."

"The traditional therapist does not question the assumption that once the child understands these previously unknown forces he will be able to think and act rationally."

However, Dr. Glasser contended, "the more delinquents are convinced that they are disturbed and have good reason to be so, the worse they will act."

On the other hand, he said, "if everyone working with a delinquent child holds him responsible to himself for what he does, the child soon learns the pleasure of doing well and getting credit for it as well as taking a mature responsibility for what he does."

He summed up his view, "We assume that if they (delinquents) can stop breaking the law, they will be less disturbed; not that once they become less disturbed they will then have less need to break the law."

Lassen Peak in Northeast California is the only active volcano in the United States outside of Alaska and Hawaii; It last erupted in 1917.

A Bright Side, Too

Peace-loving Nikita rattles his missiles, over in Laos, things are getting Laus-ier, in Algeria they're still taking pot shots at each other. It's tough all over, even in the business world—according to the headlines. It seems a gloomy outlook.

But the news isn't all on the drab side. There are the bright spots which can set a reader's imagination soaring as he draws a mind picture of some of the chronicled events.

For instance, from right here in Palm Springs a tale goes out on the wires that a hole in the ground is going to be moved 10 miles along a busy highway and from the other side of the continent comes another item that can call up a pretty mind picture. In Tampa, Fla., a wife became irked because her mother-in-law wouldn't clear off the dining room table.

Her husband had to call police to find out what to do because the angry wife retaliated by jumping up and down on his mother's bed so she couldn't get to sleep.

In Stamford, Conn., comes the story of a near-riot on a commuter train. A clothing manufacturer had the bright idea of staging a men's fashion show on the train—in the morning, too, when he should have known most of the male commuters would be feeling crabbed. He had four young men in Bermuda shorts, plaid sport shirts and red pullovers, parade the aisles. The effect, as well as the reaction, was startling.

Also from Connecticut, comes a dispatch which might be of value to some of our California politicians in this summer of campaigning.

There, Rep. Horace Seely-Brown, Republican nominee did a switch in seeking votes. Instead of kissing babies which some mothers, in these days of concern over germs and sanitation, might protest, he put his faith in pot holders.

He goes around ringing doorbells and presents the lady of the house with a holder, piped in brown, bearing the advice, "Remember to vote for Seely-Brown for Congress."

Every time she uses it to grab a hot pot, she gets the word. With so many men going in for this barbecue act, it gets them, too.

Back to California, a man in Martinez is being sued for $35,000 for harboring a "giant and vicious rabbit." A neighbor woman charges the bunny kicked her in the eye when she tried to chase it from her strawberry patch and now her vision is so impaired she can't watch television.

It all goes to show that if you look for the silver lining, you'll find it.

Also—that it's not all bad news tonight.

Halter Broken

Here is something to think about. It didn't happen in Russia, it happened right here in the U.S.A. Commenting editorially, the Portland, Oregonian says:

"One doesn't realize how regimented American farmers have become until a Stanley Yankus or a James Weir pops up in the news.

"Mr. Yankus . . . was the Michigan farmer who sold out and moved to Australia after the federal government had fined him more than $5,000 for growing too much wheat. Mr. Yankus did not grow the wheat for sale but to feed his several thousand chickens, but that made no difference. He had planted more than his allotment of wheat acreage and Uncle Sam put the screws on him.

"Down at Lake Village, Ark. . . . James Weir's 944-acre farm was sold at government auction for $60,000. Mr. Weir grows rice and is in hock to the government for more than $27,000 in penalties. He paid $8,900 for overplanting his 1958 acreage allotment, owes $10,244 for overplanting in 1960 and $16,872 for exceeding the 1959 allotment. The government took his farm to get its penalty money.

"The Arkansas farmer contends that acreage allotments are unconstitutional, that a man can grow what he wants to on his own land and how much he wishes of any particular crop. Not very many years ago virtually every American would have agreed with him . . .

"Our farmers evidently have been pretty well broken to the halter. Only when a Yankus or a Weir rears up in defiance does one realize how complacently the majority responds to Washington's 'whoas' and 'giddy-ups'."

More and more industries, and individuals other than farmers, are finding themselves with Washington rings in their noses for regulatory lead ropes.

HOLMES ALEXANDER:

The Bay State Democratic Primary

WASHINGTON — Prejudice and moral persuasion which are a part of the columnist's equipment, are here to stay but they will never replace shoe leather reporting. Accordingly, I have dispatched my reporter-son to Boston to take a factual fix on the important Massachusetts primary election. His findings do not match his old man's desires in the matter, and are the more useful for that reason. The rest of this piece is his.

"5:30 a.m. — EMK will be picked up at 3 Charles River Square.

"6:15-6:40 a.m. — Tyler Rubber Factory — Gate — 300 people."

Right People at Each Stop

These two entries head Edward M. Kennedy's campaign itinerary for July 10, 1962. The neatly-typed schedule, which lists twenty-seven stops for the Senatorial candidate to make, is prepared in advance and distributed to the advance men so that the right people will be on hand to greet Kennedy at each stop.

These sheets and the super-efficient political machine that produced them raises the question: How can anybody beat a Kennedy in Massachusetts?

Attorney General Edward J. McCormack, Jr., thinks he can do it. Seated in his big leather chair, with his feet on his desk in his State House office under the gold dome of the State Capitol, he looks relaxed and confident.

He says Massachusetts people resent the "outside influence" brought to bear to elect Ted Kennedy. He disputes Ted's claim that he could do more for Massachusetts if elected, saying that the State has not benefitted substantially from having Jack Kennedy in the White House. He says Ted Kennedy doesn't know Massachusetts' problems because he hasn't really lived in Massachusetts. He says that all three Kennedy brothers and their wives have used a one-bedroom apartment, 122 Bowdoin Street in Boston for their legal residences in Massachusetts, but doubts that any of them have spent much time there.

McCormack's confidence comes from his previous success in two state-wide elections. He was elected Attorney General in 1958 with an 82,000 plurality and re-elected in 1960 with a 430,000 plurality. He has the advantage of running for office while holding office.

The Kennedy victory at the Democratic State Convention he dismisses as a mere triumph of wire pullers.

Besides the mass of the people, McCormack claims, "ninety per cent of the intellectuals of this state are with me." He says his record on civil rights and in other fields, coupled with Ted's lack of qualifications, has swung this group to his side and cites Harvard Professor Mark DeWolfe Howe's letter attacking Kennedy as evidence of support of "the academic community."

But to a reporter who visited Ted Kennedy's headquarters and talked to his supporters, McCormack's chances do not appear good. The Kennedy manner and the often-tested Kennedy election techniques still probably prevail in the September 18th primaries, although it is still early in the campaign and most people in Massachusetts are more interested in barbecuing steak in the back yard or going to the beach than the Democratic Primaries for Senator.

The Kennedy technique is not new or revolutionary. It consists of the greatest possible exposure of the candidate to the people, careful planning, the use of the most modern equipment, and lots of Kennedy money. Each itinerary includes a number of "house parties," where coffee and cookies are served. The candidate pays a brief visit with his attractive wife, Joan, shakes hands with the dozen or more ladies present and darts off to the next one. The schedule may include as many as nine afternoon stops. This technique was used effectively by Jack Kennedy in his 1958 Senatorial election, which was managed by Ted. It combines snob appeal and the greatest possible exposure of the candidate to women voters.

Many Kennedy Workers

It is hard to say exactly how many workers Kennedy has. At the downtown Boston Kennedy Headquarters, 160 Tremont Street, Ed Martin, Ted's Press Secretary, admitted he had "ten girls, about four men, plus three college students" on the pay roll. He also has advance men, who get paid only for the gas they use driving about the State preparing the way for Ted. This staff seems rather large for such an early stage of the campaign. (McCormack says he only has two paid campaign workers.)

Martin is a reporter from the Boston Herald on leave of absence. Harold E. Clancy, former editor of the Boston Traveler and now a lawyer, reportedly is a Kennedy "consultant." In addition, numerous Kennedy cousins and in-laws help out in the campaign at various times and places. Ted has his own photographer, a Harvard student from the Harvard Crimson.

Both Ted Kennedy and Edward McCormack support the New Frontier program. They agree on most issues of foreign and domestic policy. This leaves McCormack with the issue of Ted's lack of qualifications, an issue that doesn't cut too deeply as both men are relatively youthful. Ted may lack qualifications, but he certainly doesn't lack political experience. He managed his brother's 1958 Massachusetts campaign and was campaign coordinator in the western states in the 1960 presidential campaign. He is smooth, polished, athletic and a Kennedy. It is much too early to be certain, but Ted looks like a winner.

THIS SIDE Of The Sun

R. F. "Phat" GRAETTINGER

'Tis said we may have signals To guide and direct traffic, And keep the laggard stroller From joining those seraphic.

That word "seraphic" is used in the belief that our pedestrians have led irreproachable lives.

THE TRAFFIC COMMISSION has recommended traffic lights for the intersections of Tahquitz-McCallum, now our main East-West artery with the two main north-south arteries, Palm Canyon Drive and Indian Avenue. It's about time.

I can think of many other intersections where lights would make driving not quite the adventure it is now. But let's not be hoggish. Be thankful for what we get, if any.

For, contrary to what many people think, traffic lights would mean less Stop and Go — in Palm Springs, at least.

THAT IS, if they threw in "Walk" and "Don't Walk" signs and slapped penalties on jaywalkers.

This slap-happy, catch-as-catch can habit of crossing streets here, a hang-over from bygone days, makes for far more Stop and Go driving than any signal system would. However, the thought of inhibiting the free choice for pedestrians will make many an old-timer, including me, recoil.

BUT WE'VE GOT to choose — whether on the vine by fighting change, or grow up. One of the charms of the Village was the privilege of taking off from the curb at any spot and meandering across the Drive.

But that was in the days when the chance of being mowed down by an auto was about 1 to 10. Now it's better than 9-5.

I READ a suggestion the other day on how to beat this slow-down caused by willy-nilly walking. A reader suggested the city build pedestrian overpasses to enable people to get from the sunny side of the Drive to the shady side or vice versa, depending on the time of day, without running the risk of becoming of interest to the coroner. I don't think that will work.

IN THESE DAYS of escalators, elevators, moving sidewalks and other devices to save wear and tear on human lower limbs, people aren't going to climb steps. They'd rather take a chance on the awareness of motorists who, mostly, are averse to messing up their bumpers.

Besides, if they're in a cross-walk they can collect. That is, if they survive.

BUT THE CHIEF reason I'm against them is because they'd look like you-know-what. You'd have to put them every block or maybe every half block. Like I say, people today take a dim view of ambulatory activity and nobody's going to walk very far and wind up climbing steps. Mole holes underneath wouldn't mar the looks of the Drive but there'd still be steps to climb—getting out.

Besides, there's that height limit. The Teamsters Union would object if the top of their tall loads were scraped off.

Let's have signals — a lot of them.

ABIGAIL VAN BUREN:

Dear Abby . . .

DEAR ABBY: Please say something in your column about how dangerous it is for a man who works around machinery to wear a ring. I was one of those foolish wives who insisted that her husband wear his wedding ring at all times. Tonight he is in the hospital minus one finger. (The one with his wedding ring.) I was told he was lucky it didn't cost him his life. People believe what they read. Please warn them before it's too late.

THE GUILTY ONE is ample warning. And while we're on the subject, I'll add another bit of helpful testimony along the same line: "DEAR ABBY: Here is how an electrician's wife lost her husband: His wedding ring wore a tiny hole through his insulated glove. The fatal contact was made and he died instantly. When his lifeless body was examined, the only sign of injury was a small burn where his wedding ring encircled his finger. So if an electrician's wife wants to become an electrician's widow she should put a wedding ring on her husband's finger and insist that he wear it to work.

WITNESS" DEAR ABBY: Does it mean anything special when a fellow closes his eyes while he is kissing you? I keep mine open and when I see his closed I feel sort of foolish because I think maybe mine should be closed too. Is there any rule about this?

OPEN EYES DEAR OPEN EYES: There is no rule — but I think that's the time a girl should keep her eyes open.

CONFIDENTIAL TO YOUNG MOTHER: If you can learn to say NO in English it will do more for you than knowing how to speak Latin.

How's the world treating you? For a personal, unpublished reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to ABBY, care of this paper.

Remember When

July 24, 1952

Villager La Rue Watson told policemen he saw a flying saucer zoom over the Village. It was the first such local report, Chief Kettmann said.

Oliver O. Clark, Indian affairs attorney and active here, was reported suspended from practice for six months.

Pvt. Bill J. Sandeffer returned to Palm Springs on furlough after 13 months in Korea to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Sandeffer and said: "People over here don't even know there's a war in Korea."

Surveys revealed that Palm Springs escaped damage in an earthquake that took a heavy toll in Kern County. The rolling motion of the earth here, while not severe, was one of the longest on record, continuing for almost a full minute.

July 24, 1942

Holders of sugar rationing cards were told they would get a two-pound bonus as result of a government survey which revealed supplies more plentiful than first reported.

Geoffrey T. Bill, local businessman, was winding up affairs here, having accepted a post with the British government in Washington, D. C.

Fire destroyed a house on the reservation at 280 North Indian Ave. and firemen were investigating the cause as the frame structure was unoccupied at the time.

July 24, 1932

Engineers of the Metropolitan Water District rejected plans to install Diesel engines to operate generators to develop power for camps and pumps along the way and entered into contracts with power companies, including the Southern Sierras company which supplied Palm Springs.

Work has been completed on resurfacing the road between Palm Springs and Snow Creek bridge.

Operation Room Blast Fatal to Boy

DALLAS, Tex. (UPI)—An anesthetic machine being used to prepare a 9-year-old boy for an adenoid operation at a hospital exploded and fatally injuring Mark Caldwell McKinney.

"It's one of those things that just cannot happen but it did," said assistant hospital administrator William Mays. "A full investigation is in progress."

The boy died eight hours after the explosion at Methodist Hospital. He was being anesthetized for an operation to correct adenoiditis. He showed no outward appearance of injury and his injuries apparently were internal.

Sports Parade

By OSCAR FRALEY

NEWTOWN SQUARE, Pa. (UPI) — Professional golf on a tournament basis is getting too big for the physical well-being of its star players, PGA Secretary Wally Mund analyzed today, and the "out" is fewer "official" tournaments for larger purses.

The pros this year are playing for purses totaling more than $2 million, Mund sees the time approaching when they will be playing for anywhere from three to five million in the course of a year.

"The answer will be in limiting our official tournaments to approximately 30," says the big man from Midland Hills Country Club, Minneapolis, "and I can visualize the day when each of them will offer a $100,000 purse."

Right now the touring pros have available more than 40 official tournaments plus an assortment of "unofficial" events. The "official" events are so designated to make certain that most of the "name" players put in an appearance. Thus in the official events there are added lures such as Ryder Cup and Vardon Trophy points awarded.

Players Wear Out

"But it stands to reason," Mund explains, "that you can't get Arnold Palmer and Gary Player and all the big names for each and every tournament. They simply wear out and need a vacation. They have their families to see and they have other valuable interests to attend."

Joe Campbell the blond husky from Indiana backed this up unequivocally. Campbell, looking strong enough to walk through a brick wall, said at the end of the PGA championship Sunday that he was "burned out from too many tournaments and needs a vacation."

TROUT FOR DINNER on Wednesday night after catching them yourself in the annual fishing event in the Palm Springs Golf Course lake. Starting time is 6:30 p.m. Howard Haddock says to bring the family as there are one thousand trout unexpectedly awaiting your bait.

Ken McBride Tabbed Top Sophomore

Insofar as manager Bill Rigney of the Los Angeles Angels is concerned Ken McBride is "the best right-hander in the American League today."

The 27-year old hurler — who demonstrated his class as a pitcher last year — is rapidly establishing himself as a prime candidate for pitching honors this season, in the league. An outstanding rookie pitcher in 1961 Ken has sneaked up on everyone this season — and right now he is the top candidate for "Sophomore of the Year" honors in the American League.

McBride in becoming the fourth American Leaguer to hit the double-figure column in victories won his ninth straight game on July 17 against Detroit for the longest winning streak by a pitcher in the Major Leagues this year. He surpassed Cleveland's Dick Donovan and San Francisco's Billy Pierce a former American League star who had each recorded eight straight triumphs early in the campaign.

Ken is a throwback to the old style of hurler — using just three pitches. The quiet-spoken right-hander who lets his pitching do his talking for him throws a fast ball, curve and change-up. Actually his fast ball is a sinker and it is this pitch which forces the opposition to beat the ball into the ground.

This year, McBride jumped off to a great beginning — based on his first start on April 12th in a cold, overcast Chicago. He beat the Chisox, 1-0, on a brilliant three-hitter. It was the first of three 1-0 shutouts this year for Ken, who had his control difficulties following his first win. He also beat Chicago, 1-0, on June 6th.

He couldn't seem to untrack himself and he feels that it was Chavez Ravine which did it. "I thought that I would be able to pitch a bit more freely in the new big park because of all the space. But it just didn't work out that way. Then I tried to be too fine and missed the corners."

But Rig and Mr. Haney (Fred Haney, Angels General Manager) told me to pitch the same way I did last year, and I settled down," Ken says.

McBride settled down and started his winning streak on May 16th at Baltimore. Since then he's been unbeatable. Kenny has proven beyond a doubt that he is one of the finest pitchers to come into the American League in many years.

In winning his third shutout by a 1-0 score, McBride has come within two of the Major League record of five 1-0 shutouts in one season, held by Ewell A. Russell of the White Sox 1913; Walter Johnson of Washington 1913 and 1919; Leslie A. Bush of the Red Sox, 1918 and Carl Hubbell of the old New York Giants in 1933. McBride generally is a low-hit pitcher — as evidenced by his record last year and thus far this season. In 1961, he pitched a three-hitter for a 9-0 shutout over Cleveland in Wrigley Field — the only whitewash job there in 1961; three five-hitters, three six-hitters including a losing 0-2 effort to Baltimore and four seven-hitters including a losing 1-4 game to New York.

COLLEGE OF THE DESERT

Capable Squad to Report in September

The pigskins will fill the air at the new College of the Desert with many local grid luminaries on hand to give strength to the first football team representing our local junior college.

Coach Don Burson who led the Indio Rajahs to an impressive Desert Valley League championship last fall, will handle the head coach spot.

Burson, a graduate of Northwestern University with a fine 10 year coaching record, will be bolstered by an initial year-line-up embracing many of his own Indio high boys of last year. Ray Engles, Bill Clayborn, Ray Neal, Bob Whitman, Ken O. Davis, Jim Engle, Ruby Smith and others.

There will also be some erst-while candidates who faced the Burson coached teams in Richard Hasenpflug, a guard from Banning; Bill Bradley from Palm Springs; center Vince Teran and quarterback Roger Totten from Coachella Valley High. Totten is a very effective passer.

The neophyte club will run from one slot "T" formation and Coach Burson brought out that spread plays would be incorporated depending on the available speed in his backfield. He further indicated that they would have adequate weight in both the front and back positions.

Their only home game will be the finale against Imperial Valley Junior College which will be played

Angels to Hold Kids Ball Game

A kids baseball game, for teams comprised of youngsters from age nine to 12, has been set by the Los Angeles Angels for Wednesday at 6:30 p.m. in Chavez Ravine, prior to the Angel-Baltimore Orioles contest.

Any team interested in participating in the three-inning game is invited to come to the Ravine that night in uniform, ready to play, with gloves and catching equipment and with coaches or managers. The Angels will supply bats and balls. The diamond will be junior sized.

Wife Watches Golfer Shoot Hole-In-One

A local golfer selected the right time to score his first hole-in-one over a period of many years on the links as he fired the ace while playing with his wife — his only witness to the once-in-a-lifetime feat.

James E. Bell, member of the Indian Wells Country Club, aced the 15th hole on the championship course using a six iron to reach the cup which measures 140 yards from the tee.

His wife, Esther, shared his thrill of scoring the hole-in-one as she was playing the course along with the ace shooter. The 15th hole at the Indian CC is the hole that Don January aced in 1961 to pocket $50,000 in the second annual Palm Springs Golf Classic.

Felix Torres Single Breaks Deadlock Dodgers Beat Cards

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Weary and bleary, the Los Angeles Angels several minutes before midnight Monday night were able to change their sad theme of "Oh my Pappas" to a cheerier "Show Me the Way Torres Go Home" after scoring a marathon win over Baltimore.

Stymied by Oriole starting pitcher Milt Pappas through the first six innings, the Angels eventually tied the game up in the bottom of the ninth. Then several yawns later in the home half of the 14th inning, third baseman Felix Torres singled with the bases loaded to give Los Angeles a 6-5 win.

Despite the natural depression of a 3 hour 54 minute night game before a scheduled doubleheader, the clubs were ready to meet in a twilight twin bill this evening that could make somnambulists of everyone in uniform.

Belinsky A Natural

Rookie Bo (stay out late) Belinsky (7-4)—a natural for a night of baseball that could go into the wee small hours—and Ted Bowsfield (5-4) were to pitch for Los Angeles. Steve Barber (7-6) and Chuck Estrada (5-10) will hurl for the Orioles—assuming they wake up in time.

With only a scattering of the 8,251 fans still in the stands—and many of those fighting off sleep—Torres came up with the bases loaded and one out in the 14th to face Dick Hall, fourth Oriole pitcher of the game.

The Spanish-speaking third baseman rammed a 1-2 pitch between the drawn up shortstop and third sacker to left field that scored Billy Moran with the tie-breaking run.

It was the first scoring since the Angels putting on one of their usual hectic finishes pushed over a run with two outs in the ninth. Lee Thomas' third of four hits chased home Albie Pearson with the run that made it 5-5.

Win to Chance

Dean Chance held Baltimore scoreless in the final five innings and got the win.

Baltimore had taken a 5-2 lead on a three-run outburst in the third inning with Brooks Robinson singling in the final two runs. And although the Angels were whacking hits off Pappas after the latter complained of a sore arm with two out in the bottom of the sixth and the Angels got an unearned run off Wes Stock.

The victory enabled the Angels to remain unbeaten against the Orioles in four games this season at Chavez Ravine and also to pick up a half-game on the idle New York Yankees who now lead Los Angeles by 2½ games.

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — The determined Los Angeles Dodgers, jolted by the word that strikeout ace Sandy Koufax may be lost from three to six weeks because of hand injury, tonight joust with the St. Louis Cardinals with hopes of keeping their league lead intact.

Stan Williams (9-5) takes on the mound against Ernie Broglio (5-4) of the Cards.

The Dodgers, behind the increasingly effective Johnny Podres at the mound, romped to an easy 9-2 victory over the Cards Monday night.

Los Angeles scored three runs in the second inning and then added five more tallies in the fourth to nail down the victory.

Wills Turns Tiger

The first Dodger outburst came on Frank Howard's 17th homer of the season with a teammate on. Two innings later, flashy Maury Wills assumed the mantle of a slugger and walloped a three-run homer, his fifth of the year.

After two men were out in the fourth, Cardinal hurlers issued three straight walks and saw catcher John Roseboro drive in two more runs with a single to left.

The third Dodger home run was hit by Jim Gilliam in the fifth inning to end the Los Angeles scoring spree with the score remaining at 9-2.

Podres scattered nine hits in going the distance for his sixth victory of the season against seven losses. Los Angeles also collected nine hits off four St. Louis pitchers.

Sadecki Evicted

Starter Ray Sadecki was blasted from the mound in the fourth inning Dodger uprising and was charged with his eighth loss to go with six wins.

The Dodgers were hit by the bad news that Koufax may be lost to the club for as long as six weeks. The news was confirmed by the club physician, Dr. Robert Woods, who said an injury to Koufax's left index finger barred him from joining the team for at least three to six weeks.

However, Woods said Koufax's finger was responding to treatment. He said an injury cut off the normal flow of blood to the finger.
